Ride for Rescue seeks to raise donations and awareness for the WLAER program. Riders are collecting pledges and other donations for their endurance rides and donating them to the WLAER program.

Sign-Up: Contact Ride for Rescue to sign-up and get the materials you need. Call Romona at (608) 222-5200 or WisLAER@gmail.com or on facebook.com/wislaer. We'll mail you a packet and everything you need.

Get Donations: Tell your friends and family about your plans to ride for rescue and ask for a donation. Riders can either collect a set amount, or have friends or family pledge a certain amount for each mile they ride. For example, one rider can collect $10 from one family member and have another pledge $1 for every mile ridden. If that person rides 25 miles this summer, then they would earn $35.

Prizes: At the end of the season, riders will turn in the money collected. For every $50 collected, they will be entered into a drawing for prizes. Also, the person who collects the most donations will receive a prize. Prizes and awards are given out at the Louise Reidel ride in Necedah, WI. See www.facebook.com/wislaer for an updated list of prizes!

Benefits Wisconsin Large Animal Emergency Response (WLAER):

WLAER exists to reduce the number of injuries and deaths associated with the handling of large animals during emergencies while increasing the safety and efficiency of first responders by creating response teams and implementing training programs.

If you take your horses to a ride, YOU could use WLAER!
